2. I have been using Telegram for 4 years

3. To send messages, share photos or videos with large capacity, contact old friends whose numbers you have lost can be found on Telegram. Can also be used to create channels if needed. Also to communicate with many people without limits.

4. quite supportive, as I said before, Telegram can contain many members in a chat group, and lots of people create chat groups with many members as a medium for learning English, with many members who are proficient or fluent in speaking so it makes it easier for me to find friends to practice English, and even find a teacher to learn it. Moreover, it encouraged me to get used to communicating in English.

10. fluency in speaking, choice of vocabulary, also the content of the conversation, the main point is the choice of topic because this is quite influential in the conversation, because when you choose and discuss an appropriate topic of conversation, the discussion on that topic will run smoothly, even though ideas will continue to emerge, the emergence of opinions and points of view from various people will add a warm impression to the chat. You don't need a heavy topic, just a simple topic that can attract the attention of the person you are talking to will create a special conversation. Regarding accent and grammar, it usually doesn't matter too much when we can enter the conversation

11. I face many challenges when interacting with native speakers, such as when my limited vocabulary mastery makes it difficult for me to speak freely.

or maybe when the accent they use is difficult to understand, this is quite frustrating because they are afraid of misinterpreting the point of the conversation. In fact, I have experienced difficulty speaking when I was not fluent in pronunciation or proper vocabulary formation, so it was quite a brain drain on how to speak fluently without fear of confusion in vocabulary or understanding the pronunciation of native speakers
