| Wendi      | Awalnya aku iseng join kak karena waktu itu aku lihat di menfess Twitter gitu yang share link WhatsApp Channel buat belajar kosakata katanya. Yaudah aku join aja. Walaupun pas awal aku sedikit bingung sistem channel gimana, tapi akhirnya aku ngerasa worth it join karena kayak punya kamus gitu hehe. | At first, I joined the WhatsApp Channel because I saw a post on Twitter sharing a link to a WhatsApp Channel for learning vocabulary. So, I just joined. Even though I was a little confused about how the channel worked at first, I eventually felt it was worth joining because it's like having a dictionary, hehe. |
| Researcher | Bisa ceritakan pengalaman kamu saat memahami kosakata dari materi yang kamu lihat di WhatsApp Channel?                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Can you tell us about your experience learning vocabulary from the materials you saw on the WhatsApp Channel?                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| Wendi      | Aku biasanya ngelihat contoh penggunaan kosakatanya dulu, konteksnya apa, kata itu dipakai untuk situasi apa. Terus baru aku cari maknanya dan cari contoh kalimatnya karena setiap contoh kalimat itu beda tempatannya juga beda. Jadi aku belajar buat lihat kata ini itu bisa dipakai dalam situasi apa. | I usually look at examples of how the vocabulary is used first, what the context is, and what situations the word is used in. Then I look up the meaning and find example sentences, because each example sentence has a different context and usage. So, I learn to see what situations these words can be used in.    |

| Researcher | Bisa ceritakan bagaimana kamu akhirnya bisa memahami makna kosakata tersebut dari materi yang ada di WhatsApp Channel?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Can you tell us how you were eventually able to understand the meanings of those vocabulary words from the materials on the WhatsApp Channel?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| Wendi      | Nah baru setelah melihat dan mencari contoh kalimatnya, aku coba buat bikin kalimat sendiri yang simpel pakai kosakata itu kak. Contohnya biasanya aku cari di Google dulu kalau belum paham. Nah setelah paham aku bikin sendiri yang lebih relate sama kehidupan sehari-hari kak. Karena kalau langsung bikin sendiri tanpa lihat contoh kadang takut salah pakai, salah penggunaan. Jadi biasanya aku lihat dulu referensinya, baru coba | Well, after looking at and searching for example sentences do I try to create my own simple sentences using that vocabulary, sis. For example, I usually search on Google first if I don't understand something. Once I understood, I'd create my own sentences that were more relevant to daily life. Because if I try to create them on my own without looking at examples, I'm sometimes afraid of using them incorrectly. So, I usually check the references first, then try it out. |
| Researcher | Bisa ceritakan fitur di WhatsApp Channel yang membantu kamu dalam memahami kosakata?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Can you describe the features on the WhatsApp Channel that helped you understand the vocabulary?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Wendi      | Kalau fiturnya sih kak notifikasi sama fitur search sih kak. Notifikasi sendiri itu buat remind aku kak buat buka atau lihat-lihat lagi. Nah fitur search itu biasanya buat aku cari kosakata jadi gak susah-susah gulir ke atasnya kak.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | for the features, there are notifications and the search feature. The notifications are there to remind me to open the app or take another look. | Wendi      | Oh iya kak, aku nyatetnya di notes HP. Karena lebih praktis aja. Dulu tuh aku nyatet di buku kak, cuma kadang-kadang aku lupa naruhnya di mana. Suka hilang gitu karena ketutupan sama kertas-kertas dokumen yang lain. Jadi yaudah aku catet di HP kak. Kalau ada kosakata baru yang menarik, langsung aku catet di HP sama kasih contoh juga. | Oh yeah, I write them down in my phone's notes app. It's just more practical. I used to write them down in a notebook, but sometimes I'd forget where I put it. It would get lost because it was buried under other papers and documents. So now I just write them down on my phone. If there's a new, interesting vocabulary word, I write it down right away on my phone and add an example too. |

| Risa       | Aku yang masih kesulitan itu waktu penggunaannya. Jadi kayak, oh kata ini tuh bisa jadi adjective, bisa jadi noun juga. Kayak gitu, jadi dia multifungsi gitu kan. Nah itu yang masih sedikit susah buat nangkapnya. Ini gimana ya bikinnya kalau dia jadi noun, ini gimana ya bikin kalimat kalau dia jadi adjective. Yang masih sedikit susah buat dipahami kayak gitu. | What I still struggle with is how to use the words. It’s like, “Oh, this word can be an adjective, but it can also be a noun.” It’s multifunctional, you know? That’s what’s still a little hard for me to grasp. How do I use it when it’s a noun? How do I form a sentence when it’s an adjective? That’s the part that’s still a little hard to understand. |

| Nadia      | Awalnya sejak booming fitur channel di WhatsApp itu sih kak. Terus aku cari-cari channel yang menarik buat aku gitu. Terus ketemu sama channel belajar bahasa Inggris, terus aku join beberapa. Dulu sampai lima channel kalau nggak salah. Dan belajarnya bukan vocabulary doang, macem-macem banget pokoknya. Terus juga penyampaiannya di channel itu nggak yang panjang kayak buku, tapi ada visual-visual yang menarik juga biar seru. | It all started when the WhatsApp Channels feature really took off. So, I started looking for channels that interested me. Then I came across some English-learning channels and joined a few of them, I think I was in up to five channels at one point. And the lessons weren't just about vocabulary; they covered all kinds of topics. Plus, the content on those channels wasn't long-winded like a book, there were engaging visuals to make it fun. |

| Nadia      | Buat aku yang orangnya audio-visual ini cukup menyenangkan sih kak. Beberapa juga ngasih contohnya lewat video pendek gitu. Yang jelas gambar atau video dari channel membantu banget lah buat pemahaman                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | For someone like me who's more of a visual and auditory learner, it was actually pretty fun. Some channels even provided examples through short videos. Either way, the images and videos from the channels really helped                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

Kan di channel kadang ngasih materi tentang slang gitu, beberapa ada yang beneran aku pakai buat sehari-hari juga. | Yes, I can. Since I'm in the English Language Education program, we sometimes speak English in class. The channel sometimes shares material on slang, and I've actually used some of it in my daily life too. |

| Nadia      | Sejauh ini nggak ada sih kak kesulitannya, karena emang gampang-gampang yang dishare di channel itu. Kecuali kalau mereka share tentang syntax, wahh kacau. | So far, I haven't had any difficulties, because the content shared on the channel is pretty easy. Except when they share stuff about syntax, oh man, that's a mess |
